What this scheme teaches, requirement by requirement

The 57 digital and online requirements of the statutory guidance, in its own words and its own order. All 57 are taught, and every one of those claims is held to phrases that must appear in the named module’s slides.

The guidance as a whole runs to 195 numbered items across 28 strands. This scheme is the digital literacy and online safety spine and covers the online part of it, never all of it. Every row below was checked against the words that are really on the slides, not against a module title.
