CUT OUT · PRINT ON CARD IF YOU CAN

Screen tokens

Cut along the dashed lines. When your child spends their stars, hand over the token that matches: one star is five minutes. A token handed over is a promise kept, so the timer matches the token.

The family swap token turns stars into a shared treat instead: a bake, a park trip, a board game. When a child chooses one unprompted, that is the chart quietly doing its real job.

THE SECRET WEAPON · CUT OUT AND KEEP BY THE SOFA

The ending well cards

Endings are where the battles live. These two cards rehearse them until they are boring, which is exactly what you want.

FIVE MINUTES LEFT

Five minutes to go!
Finish your level. Save your game.
No new episodes start now.

Parent: hand this card over silently. The card is the messenger, so you are not the baddie.

TIME IS UP

Screen off. One big breath in... and out.
High five. You ended well!
That is a star for tomorrow's chart.

Ending well today earns the first star of tomorrow. The loop closes itself.

WHY A BREATHING BEAT WORKS

Switching off mid game feels to a child like being yanked out of a swimming pool. One slow breath is the towel. It gives the brain a beat to arrive back in the room, and it turns the ending into a small win you can praise instead of a fight you have to referee.

Thank you

These tokens and cards come from Earn Your Screen Time, in the same Etsy shop. The whole pack adds the weekly star charts for ages 5 to 7 and 8 to 11 that earn the tokens in the first place.

A FREE GIFT FOR YOUR FAMILY

As a thank you, the full Guided Childhood Starter Pack is yours free: the star chart, the jobs that earn the stars, and a whole booklet of things to do away from a screen. Pop your email in at the address below and it is yours.

guidedchildhood.com/etsy-bonus

Made by Justin at Guided Childhood, a dad who got tired of the screen time fight. If a token handed over ends a screen time argument in your house, a kind review on Etsy helps another family find it.