Let us agree the jobs

A chart a child had no say in is a chart you have to enforce every single day. So this comes out of the printer before the chart does. Sit down together, go through the day, and tick the ones that are theirs. What you both agree here is what goes on the chart.

STEP ONE, NOW
Agree it together
Tick down this page with them. Their choice on at least a few is the whole point.

STEP TWO
Build the chart
Type the agreed jobs into the star chart builder in the app, or write them on the blank rows.

STEP THREE
On the fridge
Print it, stick it up at their height, and colour a star the moment a job is done.

Pick five or six, not twenty. Four jobs done is a good day and earns a Planet Friend. A list nobody can finish stops being a list and starts being a telling off, so leave most of these unticked on purpose.

THE STAR REWARD CHART

My star chart

THIS CHART BELONGS TO

Write in the jobs you agreed together on the sheet before this one, then colour a star every time one is done. Stars are not points for a chart nobody spends, they buy real screen time, so the deal is plain to everyone in the house.

YOU ARE DOING BRILLIANTLY

THE JOBS THAT EARN STARS

Pick your jobs, then write your own

Tick the ones that fit your family, write them onto the chart, and ignore the rest. A chart works when it is your list, not ours. There are four blank rows on the chart waiting for the jobs only your house has.

EVERY DAY, WORTH 1 STAR

- [ ] Get dressed on my own
- [ ] Make my bed
- [ ] Brush my teeth, no fuss
- [ ] Tidy my toys away
- [ ] Shoes and coat away
- [ ] Dirty clothes in the basket

A BIT MORE, WORTH 2 STARS

- [ ] Lay or clear the table
- [ ] Help load the dishwasher
- [ ] Feed the pet
- [ ] Take the bins out
- [ ] Help put the shopping away
- [ ] Sweep or hoover one room

THE BIG ONES, WORTH 3 STARS

- [ ] Play outside for half an hour
- [ ] Read with a grown up
- [ ] Make something with my hands
- [ ] Help cook a whole meal
- [ ] A job for someone else in the family
- [ ] Water the plants or the garden

JOBS ONLY YOUR HOUSE HAS

_____ _____

_____ _____

_____ _____

Play and outside jobs pay the most stars on purpose. Screens are brilliant, and running about and making things deserve the biggest reward.

HOW TO MAKE YOUR CHART

Five minutes, then it runs itself

1. Print the chart page and this list. Card stock lasts longer.
2. Choose the jobs above that fit, and write them into the chart with the blanks for your own.
3. Laminate it, or slide it in a wallet, so a dry wipe pen makes it last all year.
4. Stick both pages on the fridge at their eye height.
5. Colour a star the moment a job is done. Naming the good thing is half the reward.
6. Add up on Sunday and spend the minutes.

DiGi says: never take a star back. The chart only ever pays out. Consequences live somewhere else, this is where the good gets seen.

CUT THESE OUT

Stars to stick, Friends to earn

Colouring a star is lovely, and some children will never do it. Sticking one on is faster, and it survives a busy Tuesday. Print this page on sticker paper if you have it, otherwise cut and use a glue stick. The stars are cut to fit the chart squares exactly.

THE PLANET FRIEND BOARD

Four stars in a day earns a Planet Friend

This is the whole deal in one line, and it is the same deal as the app. Stars buy minutes. A day where four jobs get done is a good day, and a good day brings a Planet Friend home. Five good days and the whole family is here.

Why four and not ten

Four is a real day, not a perfect one. A target a child misses every week stops being a target and starts being proof they are failing. Four jobs is reachable on an ordinary Tuesday with school, tea and a bath in it, which is the only kind of target that lasts.

Twenty minutes, on purpose

Twenty minutes is one episode, or one proper go on a game. Small enough that a whole day of jobs is not traded for an afternoon gone, big enough to be worth getting up for. Stack the days if they would rather save.

THE WHOLE FAMILY IS WAITING

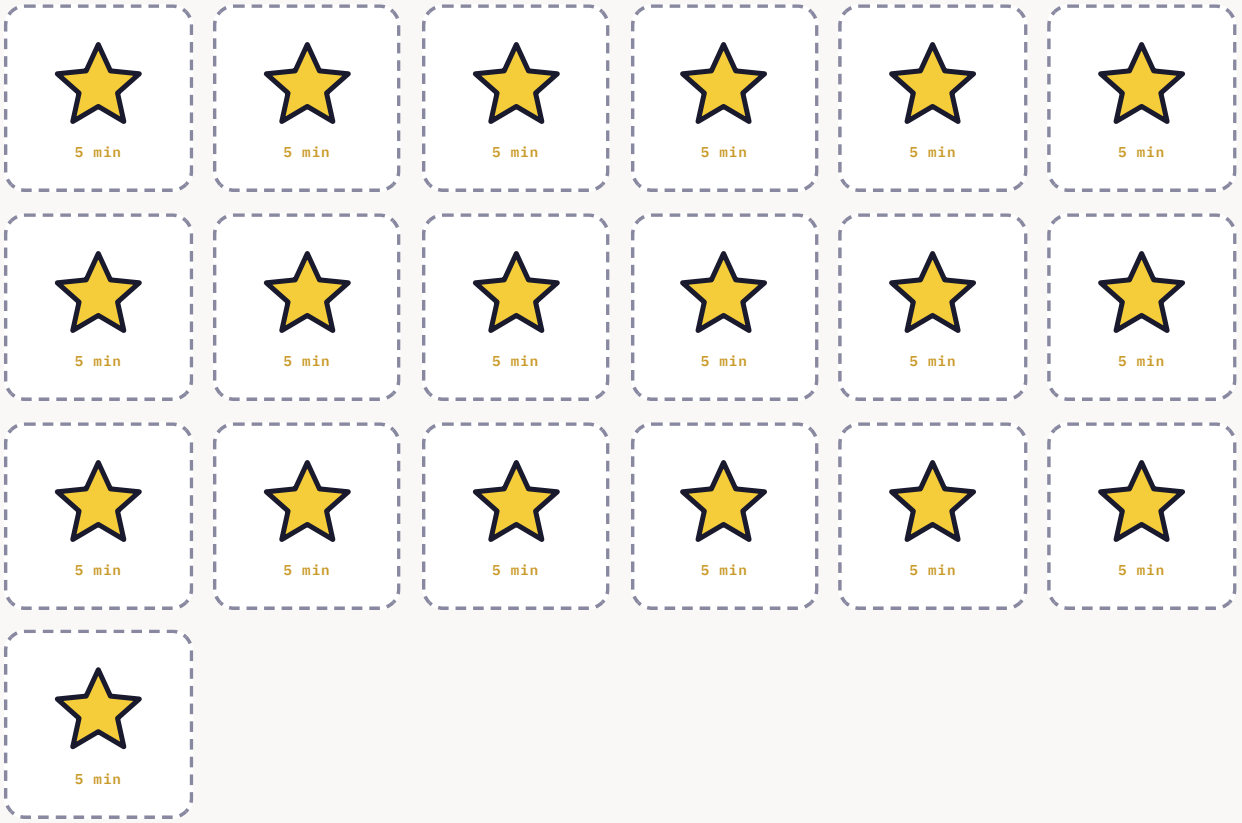

STARS

Cut out your stars, keep the tracker

Print these on card, cut them out, and hand a real gold star over the moment a job is done. Little ones love holding the star before they stick it on the chart. Each one is worth five minutes of screen time.

THE GUIDED CHILDHOOD PASSPORT

Your Passport sticker

The Star Chart belongs on the Pebble page (ages 4 to 7), under the doing, in the Guided Childhood Passport. When your family has used the chart, cut out the sticker and stick it on that page. The big one fits the stage page and the small one fits the fold out passport.

PRINT THIS PAGE ON STICKER PAPER, OR ON PLAIN PAPER WITH A GLUE STICK

No Passport yet? Look for the Guided Childhood Passport in the same Etsy shop: five stage pages for ages 4 to 16, each one stamped when the talk, the doing and the check are done.

A FREE GIFT FOR YOUR FAMILY

As a thank you, the full Guided Childhood Starter Pack is yours free: the star chart, the jobs that earn the stars, and a whole booklet of things to do away from a screen. Pop your email in at the address below and it is yours.
